THE GOLF COURSE

The exquisite trio nine holetracts—Rocky course, Palm course & Crocodile course with live crocodiles, were craved with great skill and vision by Australian golf course architect Ross C. Watson. The course flows with the undulating terrain, past mature palm trees and spectacular boulders and pristine waterways, an ensemble to provide the best of a natural setting for a nice round of golf.

27-hole

ROCKY NINE

Named for the prolific presence of boulder outcrops which serve both aesthetic and panel function, this 3,182 metre grouping of holes plays outwards from the clubhouse up to the resort's boundary with the North-South Highway, then back to the clubhouse. The signature fourth hole is a boulder-strewn par 5 which plays parallel to the highway on the left.

PALM NINE

The palm nine is thus named due to the prolific presence of tall coconut trees which line the fairway perimeters. Picturesque and challenging, this nine-hole tract is the longest of the trio, measuring 3,215 metres from the back markers.

The signature hole is the par 5 fourth, which demands a spectacular water carry for the approach to a diagonally angled greensite.

CROCODILE NINE

A' Famosa shortest and newest nine-hole loop plays toward the 'Water World' theme park, which provides a stunning backdrop to the fourth green.

The highlight of this spectacular nine is the hole from which it gets its monicker – the par 4 seventh, which demands one of the most unnerving approaches known to golf; over a narrow strait to a peninsula greensite, built next to a crocodile pit.
